

bereaved parent support group

The evening provides an opportunity for parents statewide, or even inter-state, to come together in a virtual space from the comfort of their own home. A chance to reflect on your own grief with other parents and support one another.

Geeta, who has attended a number of the Bereaved Parent Support Group evenings shares her experience with the group:

“ Being able to share (or not) brought a sense of safety in these small groups and has been a welcome space and time to look forward to sharing or contemplating our children and the effect of living without them. ”
